

PORTFOLIO

Abdul Rafay

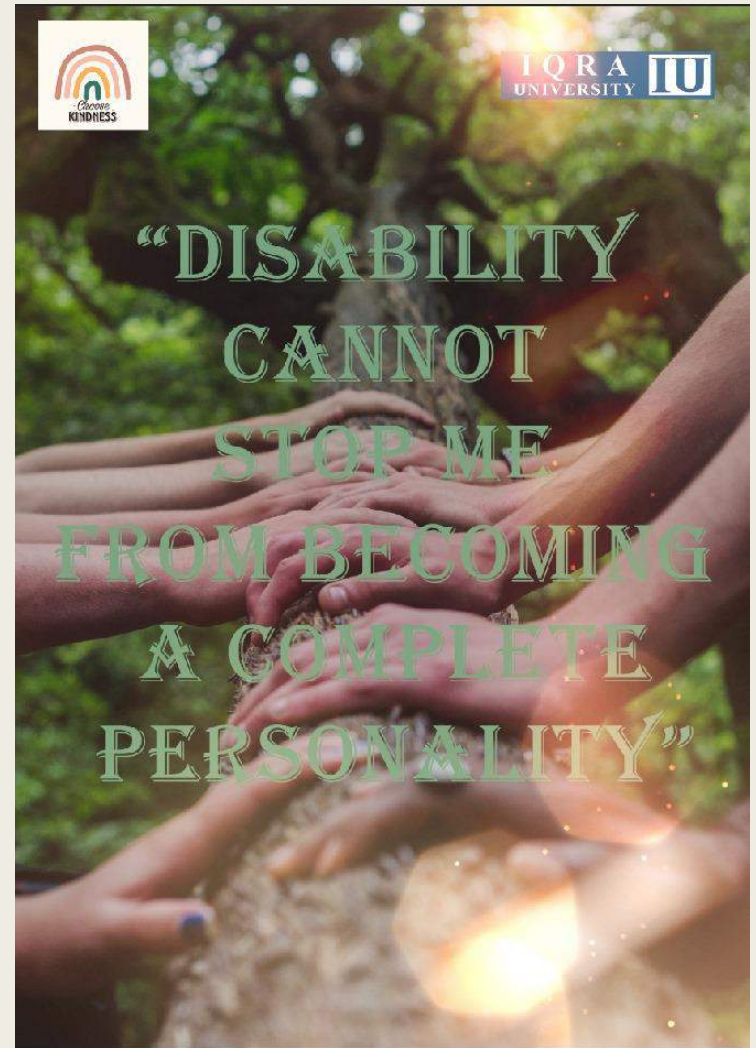

Some of my works of perspective drawings. I created the first one using an image I took of the corridor of my university. The second drawing is of an imaginary building drawn in perspective.

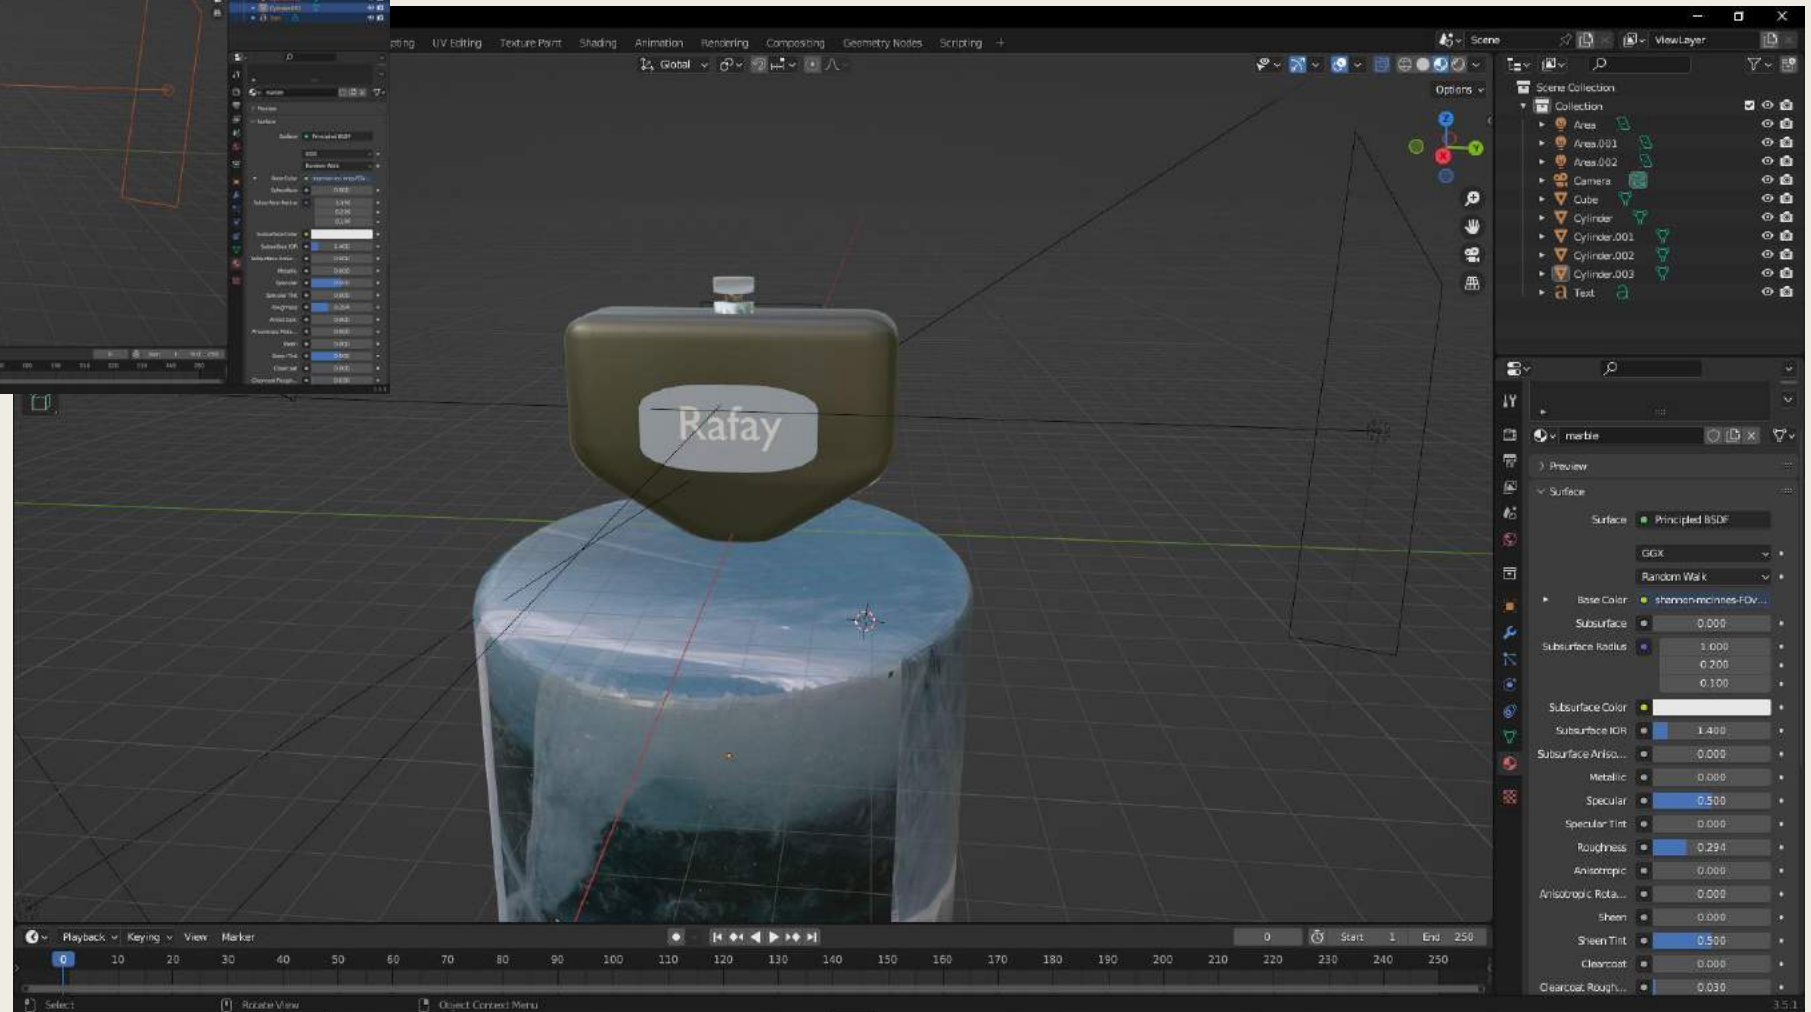

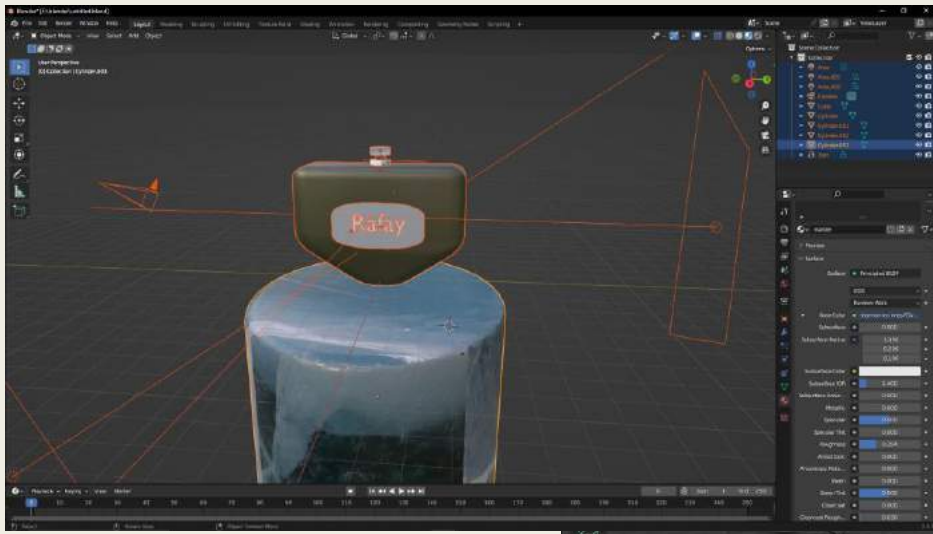

A few sketches which I have completed. The first one is an observational drawing. The second one is an example of an eraser sketch.

A bit of graphic design work I did during university as part of different projects.

I worked on a photography project during university that revolved around the theme of blood and beauty.

I attempted to enter the realm of 3d during my semester break.
